THREAT OF REVOLT IRISH FREE STATE IN TURMOIL.

Government Threatened To Arrest Mr. Cosgrave.

SENSATION CAUSES MORE BITTERNESS AGAINST DE VALERA.

London, To-day.

A threat of revolution is disturbing the Irish Free State and a sensational report that the de Valera Government contemplates the arrest of Mr. W. T. Cosgrave, leader of the opposition and President of the Free State from 1922 to 1931, has aroused wild speculations of a possible revolt breaking out against the Republic administration.

The taxes placed by Britain on Free State products have lost much of the English market for Ireland and the farmers in the southern districts are faced with impending ruin. Forcible protests have been made and the temper of the people in the agricultural areas is frayed almost to desperation.

De Valera, who is now in Geneva, has intimated that he will not hesitate to use his Republican Army to suppress any expressions of rebellion against his Government.

The report that the Free State Government was contemplating the arrest of Mr. Cosgrave under the Public Safety Act was published in the "Morning Post" which says that the speech made by Mr. Cosgrave last week wherein he scathingly criticised the Government's policy, so infuriated the Government that, following the Cabinet meeting presided over by Mr. Sean O'Kelly in the absence of Mr. De Valera inspired the article which appeared in the official Government organ, the Irish Press, threatening Mr. Cosgrave with arrest if he persists in opposition to the Government's policy.

The article points out that the Public Safety Act passed by Mr. Cosgrave's Government is still in existence, although in a state of suspension, and that the Government could bring it into operation by issuing a proclamation. Mr. Cosgrave could then be arrested and tried by a Military Tribunal. Mr. Cosgrave declares that it is only lack of courage which prevents the Government from taking the threatened action, and declares he will repeat his attack as often as it is necessary to ensure they carry out the threat. — Reuter.

Col. R. B. Cousins, D.S.O., A.A. and Q.M.G., in Charge of Administration, South China Command, arrived back in the Colony this morning from Shanghai on the s.s. Ranhi. Col. Cousins has been to the North in connection with military duties and has been absent several weeks. Mr. S. T. Williamson, proprietor of Messrs. Williamson and Company, and a Justice of the Peace, also arrived back in Hong Kong this morning. — Reuter.

SUN FO SEES WAR AS CHINA'S SALVATION

JAPAN IS PRESSED BY BITTER ENEMIES

STRUGGLE IS INEVITABLE

("China Mail" Special.)

War in the Far East, a great and devastating struggle, will inevitably involve Japan and will prove the salvation of China, if the nation stands united and watches for its opportunity to heave off the yoke of oppression, declared Mr. Sun Fo, just before he left for Shanghai aboard the s.s. Empress of Canada to-day. In an exclusive interview with the "China Mail," the noted Chinese leader forecasted a bitter struggle for mastery in Asia, and one which would eventually exhaust Japan.

"If the League of Nations cannot settle the question, in the Far East," said Mr. Sun, "America will take action against Japan alone. If the Nine-Power Treaty has no effect, war between America and Japan is inevitable. And no matter what the outcome, I expect that Russia would make war upon Japan in her weakened state. China's soil will be the battle-ground and China must be prepared."

"It appears at this time that Japan would have an advantage in war, but she must be defeated eventually. Japan will be bankrupt."

DANISH AIR FLEET MEETS THE PRINCE

Enthusiastic Reception At Copenhagen.

ROYAL PLANE IN GALE.

London, To-day. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales with his suite, in the Imperial Airways liner "Hercules," reached Copenhagen safely at 6.18 p.m. yesterday. During the latter part of the journey, the air liner was escorted by 15 Danish Naval and Military aircraft.

The Prince was the first to leave the air liner and was immediately greeted by the Crown Prince, Frederick. Other members of the Danish Royal family and many distinguished figures in Danish public life, together with the British Minister, Sir Thomas Hoyer, and other officials, were present, and the Prince received also, a most enthusiastic greeting from the crowd of many thousands assembled at the Kastrup Aerodrome.

Weather conditions somewhat retarded the Prince's arrival. After leaving Croydon yesterday morning, strong headwinds reaching gale force were encountered over the Channel, and this made the journey longer than expected. The liner landed at Amsterdam where the Prince had a light lunch before the journey was continued to Hamburg. It was the first occasion on which the Prince had set foot on German soil since the war.

Most members of the British Colony were among the great crowd assembled at the aerodrome to greet him. After a 40 minutes' halt, the giant plane set off on the last stage of the flight.

The Prince expects to remain in Copenhagen for about a week and will pay during this time a private visit to their Majesties, the King and Queen of Denmark. When he leaves the British Exhibition on Saturday he will be accompanied by the Crown Prince of Denmark. — (Continued on Page 11.)

rupt. She will be in worse straits than Germany found herself after the Great War. This I can judge.

Three Possibilities. There are three possible solutions of the Manchurian problem, Mr. Sun said.

"First, Britain remains neutral. France is sympathetic towards Japan and America stands independent. If the League of Nations can do nothing, then America will protest against Japan's actions, under the provisions of the Nine-Power Treaty. Should her appeal here fail, war is inevitable. The result of the war will give China her chance to break away from the Japanese yoke."

"Second, because France desires Britain and America to support her in her attitude towards Germany's demand for arms equality, and since America desires France's backing for her policy towards Manchuria, France must give up her pro-Japanese leaning. It is possible, then, that the Nine Power Treaty (Continued on Page 12.)

GUNMAN SHOT IN THRILLING STREET FIGHT

Fired On Pedestrian In Cold Blood.

DUELS WITH POLICEMAN.

[From Our Own Correspondent.] Shanghai, To-day.

A gunman was probably fatally wounded in a revolver duel with a police officer in the French Concession last night.

But before he dropped, senseless from the bullets which shattered his body, the gunman had stood at bay, firing desperately as the constable crept upon him, his own revolver blazing.

On a crowded, thoroughfare, the unknown desperado pulled his automatic without a word of warning and deliberately shot down a pedestrian. The crowd, terror-stricken, scattered. Men and women threw themselves flat upon the street and, dived into doorways.

Only one, an Annamite policeman, coolly drew his heavy pistol and approached the assassin.

There was no chance of escape with the officer so near. As long as the officer was standing, there was small chance of safety. They both commenced firing at the same moment.

The desperado was severely wounded and was examined at the hospital. He was a Chinese and had been in the city for some time. — (Continued on Page 11.)

JAPANESE LEADER SPEAKS.—Mr. Reijiro Wakatsuki, former Prime Minister of Japan, is seen addressing an informal reception of the Minseito Party held in Tokyo.

GANDHI HAS CHANCE TO END HIS FAST

Agreement Nearer In Electorate Dispute.

LEADERS MEETING AGAIN.

Poona, To-day. A fateful conference on the "Untouchables" electorate question, between Mahatma Gandhi and a special committee of Caste Hindus and Depressed Class leaders, opened yesterday and adjourned after two hours.

The delegates stated that had had a long, satisfactory and heart-to-heart talk with Gandhi and hoped to return to-morrow with final settlement in their hands.

If they can reach an understanding, it is likely that Gandhi will be willing to break his fast, ten days of which would prove fatal, his friends believe.

The Government is willing to listen to suggested changes as soon as the parties concerned in the recently announced Communal plan, against which Gandhi protests, have reached unanimity in their requests. Meanwhile, a general plan for electoral representation is in force and Gandhi is seeking, by fasting, to change it. — Reuter. (Continued on Page 4.)

GERMAN AIRMAN LEAVES JAPAN.

Tokyo, To-day. A message from Kagoshima states that von Gropau, the German aviator who has just flown across the Pacific, took off for Shanghai at 8.50 this morning.

The German ace is on a projected flight around the world, and is expected to leave Shanghai for Hong Kong soon after his arrival at the former port. — Reuter.

SHANGHAI COURT PACKED IN BOMBING CASE.

Youth Sentenced To Three Months In Jail.

[From Our Own Correspondent.] Shanghai, To-day.

The public benches of the First Special District Court were so filled that police intervention was necessary to prevent overcrowding in court when the youthful bomb-thrower, Young Weifong was sentenced to three months to-day.

He was allowed freedom on bail, shop security pending, after he had given notice of appeal.

The affair arose through the sending of a letter, accompanying a bomb, to the Cotton Piecegoods Guild. The letter the accused admitted having sent but he denied throwing the bomb.

BIRTH RATE GAINS IN BRITAIN.

Increase Indicates Better Times.

London, To-day. The birth rate, which had been on the decline in Britain, shows a sharp increase in the returns issued by the Registrar General for the quarter ended June 30. There were in that period 185,456 births in England and Wales, 1,696 more than in the corresponding quarter of last year, which corresponds to an annual rate of 16.6 per thousand.

Mortality of babies, under one year was equal to 50 per thousand live births.

The increased birth rate is seen as an indication of reviving spirit after the long period of depression, of greater confidence in the future. — British Wireless Service.

FOREIGNERS EVACUATING BATTLE AREA

General Han Closes Up Enemies.

MORE FIGHTING REPORTED.

Chefoo, To-day.

Severe fighting is reported from the civil war front in Shantung.

General Han Fu-chu's apparent object is to maintain his left flank from Laichow to the sea, meanwhile attempting an encircling movement on the right flank beyond Pingtu, and thus to trap his enemy, General Liu.

General Han's eastern forces are reported to be operating via Tsimso and are said to be approaching the fork of the Wulung River, facing General Liu's southern Laiyang front.

It is reported that fighting is taking place on both the Laichow and the Laiyang fronts and that all foreigners have evacuated Laichow. — Reuter.

AGED LAWYER SENTENCED TO 14-YEAR TERM

Church And University Leader Confesses.

ENORMOUS SUMS MISSING.

Winnipeg, To-day.

John Machray, white-haired veteran of the Canadian law courts, until recently, Bursar of the University of Manitoba, and Chancellor of the huge diocese of Rupert's Land, has confessed to the theft of $900,000 of University funds and $80,000 of money which belonged to his former law partner. He was sentenced to seven years in prison on each charge.

Approximately $1,000,000 is unaccounted for in the treasury of the Church of Machray served but the Church will not prosecute. Its work of mercy among the Indians, Eskimos, lonely trappers and settlers in the Far Canadian North has been seriously affected by the loss of funds. It is believed Machray lost money in his trust through an unfortunate series of speculative investments.

He is still at his home when his case was first reported. He was born in 1872 and was a member of the Canadian Bar.

FOUND BY PEASANT

GET FAIR TREATMENT FROM BANDITS.

IN NEED OF PROVISIONS.

Mukden, To-day. Mrs. Muriel Pawley and Mr. Charles Corkran were located to the East of Panshan, 30 miles from Newchang, and quartered with peasants in a hut, guarded by a handful of bandits, who are giving them fairly good treatment.

It is unlikely they will hurt the captives, according to a peasant who has seen the bandits. But he says they are in want of provisions.

The peasant claims to have spoken to the chieftain of the bandit gang.

The knowledge of the whereabouts and safety of the two captive Britishers, will bring a redoubling of efforts to secure their freedom, it is expected.

Word came out through a devious way from the bandit camp yesterday. That camp has shifted many times daily, so that it is impossible for the authorities to keep check on the movements of the bandits. But the letter was not hopeful. It said that unless the $250,000 ransom were paid within a week, the bandits would put the two prisoners to death.

In the meantime, there was every reason to believe that the fierce outlaws would cut off their captives' ears and send them back to their friends.

Mrs. Pawley's husband, still in Mukden, has made desperate efforts to effect a release of his wife, going as far as to offer himself in exchange for her person. But he has been able to accomplish nothing.

Meanwhile, British authorities in the north are doing everything in their power to prevent harm falling upon the helpless captives and Japanese and Manchukuo troops have promised to postpone any punitive expedition until after the two Britishers are safely returned to a place of safety.

SILVER RISES BUT DOLLAR STEADY

New York Stocks Drop.

Following its recovery to 1/4 the Hong Kong dollar remained steady this morning, after rising 1/4 yesterday.

Silver prices strengthened, spot and forward prices, advancing sharply to 18-1/16 and 18-3/16 yesterday afternoon, a rise of 1/16 on the earlier quotations.

The London New York cross rate, quoted yesterday at $-G83.46 1/2 stood at $-G83.46 this morning, while the New York London rate is quoted at $-G83.46 1/2 as against $-G83.46 yesterday.

The New York market still continues irregular, unsettling news being used as a reason for the fluctuation, but it is probably logical to interpret the irregularity as a reflection of the fact advance in prices which took place on September 21. Yesterday, a few shares changed hands, but the market was generally quiet.

Gold is still at its normal level when its case was first reported. It was born in 1872 and was a member of the Canadian Bar.

Danger of London Bus Strike Now is Definitely Averted

London, To-day. There will be no bus strike in London to-morrow.

The representatives of the Busmen's Union at a Conference with Government officials, advocated by a view of the new terms of the proposed settlement.

The new terms involve a reduction of wages, but a reduction of conditions of labour. A speeding up of bus services through the metropolis, however, is necessary and the operators insisted upon this point being brought into the new agreement. In view of the concessions given them, the busmen offered no objection.

The compromise relieves the strained atmosphere of London, which forecast is the up of the busmen's strike, and a general public transport generally.

Chic Nose Veils Are In Style

Quite a number of the chic little nose-veils are being worn and there is no doubt that their popularity is increasing.

A fine mesh is essential with these veils, otherwise it is difficult to see where one is going! They should be worn under berets or any similar small-fitting hat and it is best to tie the veil simply round the head, taking care that it covers all of the hair except, of course, the extreme ends. These veils may be worn in town even with a semi-sports hat, and look smart with the accompanying hat at an angle. When the hat is worn very much on one side the veil looks at its best.

These veils, incidentally, have come at a fortunate time, for they go very well with the "sailor" hats that are so popular at the moment. They should be placed over the flat, narrow, brim of the hat, to which they lend a really distinctive air.

BATH IS COMFORT TO LORD BABY.

Mother Must Show Consideration.

Bath-Time should be enjoyed by Lord Baby as well as by his mother. Given properly it is a great comfort to him, and also gives him some of the exercise he needs to keep in health and to encourage his limbs and muscles to grow. Place a warm towel over the baby when you first remove his little garments, and let him lie on your lap. Gently clean each nostril with a small piece of damp cotton-wool. Turn baby so that his head is over the bath but supported by your hand. Soap his head. Then wash the lather off baby's head backwards to prevent the water from running into his eyes or ears. Dry his head thoroughly in a soft towel. Then sponge his face, using no soap, and dry that.

Baby is now ready to go into his bath. Put your left hand round his shoulders and hold him so that his head is supported by your arm. Put your right hand under him and lower him gently into the water. Then use your right hand to soap and sponge him well. Soap him in his bath, for this does away with the risk of chills. Have a warm towel ready and spread it on your lap, and then lift baby out of the water on to it, wrap him in it, and dry him with a dabbing, not a rubbing movement. When he is dry powder him freely where-soever there are little creases and folds on his body and limbs.

Elements Of Comfort Are Desirable

If your husband is a pipe smoker, and such a lot of nice men are, give him a proper rack for his pipes or a small table where he can see them arrayed together with his tobacco and cigarettes and possibly reading glasses.

Let him feel this is his own particular piece of furniture arranged entirely for his own comfort near his favourite armchair. Such things about makes a room look alive with personality. The essence of comfort is to have things you need and that are connected with your enjoy sent around you.

A WIFE CANNOT BE AN "ANGEL."

Not In This Village Pageant.

Do women cease to be "Angelic" when they marry?

It has been left to the Baildon, Yorkshire, pageant committee to raise doubts about this.

They have decided that married women shall be barred as being unsuitable for the part of the Angel of Peace, the leading role of the village pageant. It was announced that an eighteen-year-old girl had been selected.

And the task of choosing the angel from a number of candidates was left to a married woman!

All the other wives of the village have rebelled against the view that their appearance was not angelic enough for the role, and it is likely that more will be heard from them before the pageant is staged in September.

THE BLIGHT ON FILMS.

Timidity And Mass Production.

TOO MUCH TALK.

Films, some people will tell you, are getting steadily worse. I have seen this week's new offerings, and almost am I persuaded. It would be unreasonable to expect every film to be a masterpiece; after all, even the best of stage producers, in good times, thinks he is doing pretty well if he picks one winner in three.

But last week I attended the pre-viewing of eleven films. There was not one that came within measurable distance of being first-class, and only three that were reasonably entertaining, writes Campbell Dixon in The Daily Telegraph.

Why? What is wrong with this picture business? There must be something wrong with it, or hard-working and intelligent men—and most directors, contrary to the popular belief, do work hard, and some of them have a good deal of ability—couldn't possibly expend so much time, energy, and money, and achieve so little.

Lack Of Courage.
Consult a dozen experts, and they will give you a dozen different answers. Most of them blame the depression. The head of Fox Films, Mr. Sydney Kent, in a remarkable outburst of candour, said the other day that business was as good as the pictures, which must mean that most pictures are very bad indeed.

I ask again, Why? How can so many financial, technical, and literary mountains labour and bring forth such dull performing mice? I think I know the answer, and it may be summed up in just three words—lack of courage.

Everybody in the business is afraid of somebody or of something. Writers (from whom the original inspiration must spring) are afraid of producers and directors. Directors are afraid of producers. Producers are afraid of their shareholders. And the stars are afraid of everybody, and most of all of their public. The executives they have enriched can and will break them, public opinion is fickle, newer stars are fighting tooth and nail to pull them down.

Too Much Team Work.

The result of it all—the inevitable result—is mediocrity. If Alexander the Great had had to call a committee meeting before every battle, how much of the world would he have conquered? What sort of a play would "Hamlet" have been if Shakespeare had written it with the aid of five playwrights, two continuity writers, and four foreign-born dialogue writers, all reporting twice daily to Louis B. Mayer, Sam Goldwyn, and Winfield Sheehan, and preparing a new "treatment" twice a week to suit the stars available?

It is surely not an accident that most of the significant films made to-day are the work of one able man—Rene Clair, or G. W. Pabst, or whoever he may be—left by his employers to do his job in reasonable freedom as long as he does it well.

And Too Much Talk.

Another and potent factor in the decline of the film is undoubtedly too much talk. The old advantage of silent films, that they could be enjoyed by all classes and all ages and all nations, has been thrown away.

The perfect picture, as Mr. Fairbanks pointed out, should be intelligible to anybody, whether he understands the dialogue or not. And probably not more than 20 per cent. of it should have talk.

Formulae Films.

What films need, above all, is a new type of producer. There are too many £2,000 and £3,000 a week men sitting in offices for the purpose of telling writers how to write, directors how to direct, and brokers how to manipulate the market. The industry to-day cannot afford the luxury of a £3,000 a week business man who is willing to let Miss Garbo go because he thinks she isn't worth £1,750. It needs new blood, and new ideas, and it is not going to get either from wholesale manufacturers who can only think in formulae. Back-stage people, managers, criminal lawyers, character actors, prize-fighters, and soldiers, and now, even, writers, who have been the backbone of the film industry, are being squeezed out of business by these new producers.

WYNNE GIBSON CONVINCES IN DRAMA AT KING'S

WEISMULLER IDEALLY CAST AS "TARZAN."

"Million Dollar Legs"—A Screaming Farce.

In "The Strange Case of Clara Deane" the new star, Wynne Gibson plays convincingly and beautifully the part of the sacrificing mother. Still, from my point of view, I prefer her in roles like "Two Kinds of Women." Cora Sue Collins as the child when young—is extraordinarily effective. I wonder what methods were used to make that parting so emotional? Frances Dee as the child grown up is her usual, natural, lovely self. Dudley Digges, Pat O'Brien, Russell Gleason and others make this worth-while entertainment. The play is strong drama and reminiscent of so many other plays, but the Gibson girl is convincing, and the child can teach the elders something about acting. (King's).

"Tarzan."

By all means see "Tarzan," but for Heaven's sake do not go in a critical mood. The story is fallacy, the hero and heroine look so spick and span, that one wonders if he has a continual supply of Wardenias somewhere, and if there is a beauty specialist in some tree for Madam, when she refuses to return to London and prefers housekeeping in tree-tops with the Ape man. Also, do you feel that Director Van Dyke has used all the left-overs from "Trader Horn." As I said before, the story does not matter, nor the fact that Maureen O'Sullivan, Neil Hamilton, Aubrey Smith, etc. must be raging at playing such secondary roles. They should be glad just to be part of the huge success this film has scored throughout the world. Johnny Weismuller was the wisest choice of G.M.G.

What a magnificent specimen of manhood, although the tailors would not retire on what he buys from them. He is grand to look at, acts most naturally, can swing from bough to bough like a circus artist, and most certainly extols the values of swimming. We are treated to a super circus. Every kind of animal, panther and lion fights with the hero, strange friendships with apes and elephants, jungle thrills and naive romance, perfectly gorgeous photography, expert direction and a star who counts. Go with your tongue in your cheek, take all the children you know, and you will thoroughly enjoy "Tarzan." (Queen's).

Maureen O'Sullivan

"Splinters in The Navy"

Coming to the Queen's another British picture—"Splinters in the Navy." I have not seen it, so I can't say if it be up to the standard of the home product to which we are growing accustomed. By the bye, if you thought "Man of Mayfair" not as good as "Service for Ladies," will you please take into consideration that the former was Jack Buchanan's first British picture, and the latter was his last. Howard Ross, the main reason for the success of "Man of Mayfair," is now in the United States.

George Jean Nathans, Cedric Belfrages, Norbert Lusk, St. John Ervines etc., we would not be here. Therefore, it is hardly fair to express strong opinions, with nasty adjectives.

So much fairer to the theatres, which provide us with our only amusement (at least it is mine) that we give the outline of the plot, the cast and leave the rest to the public. If they like a certain artiste, they will go, no matter what I nor anyone else says. I have seen audiences in Singapore, Shanghai and here treat "Mata Hari," which M.G.M. claimed as super, merely as a joke. Nathan laughs at "Grand Hotel," but that won't stop us seeing it. I adored "This is the Night," Lusk slated it. What I like, my neighbour criticises, so for the future, I will confine my writings to suggestions and letting my reader find out for himself. There is only one way to do that—Go and see.

"Devil's Lottery."

Curiosity provokes an English publisher to invite winners of the Calcutta Sweep to be his guests. Together under one roof in "Devil's Lottery," we have Elissa Landi, a woman of questionable reputation, her crooked lover, an idealistic young American visitor, Victor McLaglen as a prize fighter, and Beryl Mercer, his Cockney mother. Things happen in a thoroughly amazing and entertaining fashion. An old friend of mine, who used to be a favourite at the London Lyceum—Halliwell Hobbes to my mind, is the best in the picture. Miss Landi possesses intelligence, beauty and distinction. McLaglen is always himself, but a fine actor. Beryl Mercer shows off as usual. Paul Cavanagh, I like—Barbara Weeks, Alexander Kirkland and Ralph Morgan make this certainly worth seeing, as there is, at least, originality in the plot. (King's).

Star's Attractions.

Pictures coming to the Star "Sailor's Behave"—said to be funny. Monte Blue in a synchronised version of "Shadows in the South Seas," then Bessie Love doing her Broadway Melody stuff in "Where the Rainbow Ends." (Star).

Chinese picture—Yesterday at Peking. If you have seen the trailer that is all you will want to see. "All Quiet on the Western Front" (a German production) is a masterpiece. "House Divided" with Walter Huston, Henry Borgeaux, and Ralph Corgan. "Love's Mile" with the O'Connors.

Joan Crawford

who marries for money, but when it is Adrienne Ames I am not surprised at his falling. What a grand cast. Cary Grant, who looks like being a favourite, Allison Skipworth, who is now rewarded with big parts—a good old trouper, Walter Byron, Rita La Roy. All helped by magnificent mounting, splendid acting, which makes for a grand show in the best Hollywood manner—advised. (King's).

Coming to the King's—Fredric March, Adrienne Allen, Sylvia Sydney in "Merrily we go to Hell." Remember it as the story "I take thee Joan"—then Lyda Roberti, (Shanghai Carlton Cafe singer) with Jack Oakie and W. C. Fields in "Million Dollar Legs"—not a leg show, but a screaming farce about the Olympic Games. (King's).

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP.

Rumours from Here and There.

Gavin Gordon is acting on the London stage. Also Anne Harding's ex-husband, Harry Bannister, (about the most amateurish I have seen on the screen) will try his luck in a London theatre too. Lovely Anne is now living the most secluded life, as her new manager who was acting in like capacity for Greta Garbo, advises Anne what to do and what not to do for a huge salary. Strange to say that the day King Vidor's ex-wife Florence, presented her husband Jascha Heifetz with a son and heir, Eleanor Boardman filed divorce proceedings. She will have custody of both their little girls.

Joan Crawford and her husband Doug Junr. are travelling in Europe. He still sports the small moustache, and so does Clark Gable. This actor, is now to be starred, which means a magnificent home in Beverly Hills.

Billie Burke and John Barrymore will be in "Bill of Divorcement."

Rumour still persists that Chevalier obtained his divorce to marry someone else, but no one can guess whether it is Genevieve Tobin or Jeannette MacDonald.

Chaplin will re-issue "The Gold Rush" with sound effects.

Katherine Cornell, now acknowledged the greatest actress on the American stage, flatly refuses picture contracts, and all her reasons are good ones.

In Charles Laughton, Paramount considers they have the finest character actor on the screen to-day. This Englishman who is famous on Broadway, will be seen in his first picture shortly at the King's. I saw him with Tallulah Bankhead (her best film to date) in "Between the Devil and the Deep," and I liken him to Emil Jannings in his greatest characterisations.

Gary Cooper, is looking more handsome than he has ever been, all three make this film outstanding. But Laughton, who is now at work with Elissa Landi and Claudette Colbert in de Mille's "Sign of the Cross," will be the greatest New Yorker ever seen, or I am much mistaken. He certainly surprised me, and he is neither young nor handsome, but with a delightful voice and the gift of pantomime rarely seen.

Dramatic cast in "Merrily we go to Hell" with Fredric March, Adrienne Allen, Sylvia Sydney, and W. C. Fields. "Merrily we go to Hell" is a grand show in the best Hollywood manner—advised. (King's).

"ETHEREAL" FILM ACTRESSES.

Golden Charm Of Evelyn Laye.

I am able to mention some of the big salaries obtained by "stars" on the London stage, writes the theatre correspondent of the "News Chronicle." "When I stated, before the show opened, that Cecil's salary as the star-comedian of "Panfare" was understood to be £2000 a week, the figure was of interest as 'the highest' straight salary ever paid to a comedian in the history of the theatre."

Violet Loraine, who has turned out to be the big tilt of the show, is said to have been content to accept something in the neighbourhood of £1000 a week because her reappearance was a speculation after so long an absence.

June, too, was making a "come-back." Her salary was about £1250 a week. The custom of paying leading actors and actresses on a percentage basis has given considerably. Evelyn Laye and George Robey are both paid partly by percentage in "Helen."

are reckoned to be between £300 and £400 a week, is paid largely by percentage.

Seymour Hicks swells his £1000 a week or so in a similar way. So does Owen Nares. "Panfare."

Theatre rents have fallen during the past few years, but are still a heavy burden. The rent of the Prince Edward Theatre, where "Panfare" is produced, is £2500 a week, and this is considered moderate for a house of its size and luxurious equipment. The production cost of "Panfare" was about £20,000. Some of this was returned during the run of the show. The theatre is now being run at a loss.

"TARZAN, THE APE MAN"—QUEEN'S THEATRE.

"It falls to the lot of the film producer to try and please everybody and, failing that, to produce pictures which will appeal to almost everybody. Tarzan, the Ape Man, is a picture which falls within the latter classification. It is a wonderfully produced picture which might have made almost as good a silent film as it does a talkie because there is so much that is really thrilling that the absence of sound would not be noticed. However, there is no denying that sound effects and speech do add to the entertainment value of this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

Even those who dislike the far-fetched themes of Edgar Rice Burroughs will find the picture interesting because the jungle scenes are good and some of the wild animal acts really amazing. See Johnny Weissmuller, the world's champion swimmer, wrestle with real live lions and leopards, swim rivers infested with crocodiles, climb upon the backs of elephants and swing dizzily from tree to tree and you will wonder how it is all done. Those who want to know how Tarzan cut his hair and shaved his chin and how he escapes from the clutches of a ferocious lion, which has apparently chewed up his shoulder, without displaying a scratch upon his beautifully proportioned body, must write him a letter.

The picture gives a genuine thrill and the experience of Mr. W. S. Van Dyke, who directed Trader Horn, is reflected in the excellently made scenes of typically African jungle. The cast includes Neil Hamilton and C. Aubrey Smith as the intrepid ivory hunters, and Maureen O'Sullivan as the girl who eventually decides to share Tarzan's wild life. Weissmuller makes a very convincing Tarzan and throughout the picture he gives evidence of his amazing athletic prowess.

The picture is now showing at the Queen's Theatre.

"THE W PLAN"—STAR THEATRE.

Graham Seton's great spy drama "The W Plan" presented by British International Pictures, is now showing at the Star Theatre, on its second local release. The exploits of a British army officer who goes over the German lines to investigate the mysterious inverted M plan, culminate in a series of exciting moments. Brian Aherne, Madeleine Carroll, Gibb McLaughlin and Gordon Harker, are the principals of a fine cast. Worth seeing!

MAIL REVIEW

"SKIPPY"—MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"Skippy", which features that lovable pair of juveniles, Jackie Cooper and Robert Coogan, stars of "Tom Sawyer" and "Sooty", is now showing at the Majestic Theatre. The acting throughout is of an excellent standard, and both children and grown-ups should make it a point of seeing this film.

MAIL REVIEW

"THE STRANGE CASE OF CLARA DEANE"—KING'S THEATRE.

That clever actress, Wynne Gibson, whose rise in filmdom has been the subject of much praise, is given her starring role in Fox's presentation "The Strange Case of Clara Deane" now playing at the King's Theatre. Miss Gibson is splendid, and the film worth seeing.

In "The Strange Case of Clara Deane", Miss Gibson portrays the three different periods in every woman's life, with marked realism. Her acting earns for her a permanent place in the category of dramatic actresses. Like Nancy Carroll, Wynne Gibson has risen to stellar heights, although misfortune dogged many of the stage shows in which she appeared.

Pat O'Brien, who did exceptionally good work in "The Front Page", pretty Frances Dee and Dudley Digges, all act admirably, and help to hold the interest of this production.

MAIL REVIEW

"YESTERDAY AT PEKING"—ORIENTAL THEATRE.

"Yesterday at Peking" a sound synchronised Chinese film, is drawing crowded houses to the Oriental Theatre, where it is the current attraction.

The film, which is a special production, is most interesting and should appeal to foreigners.

MAIL REVIEW

"POWER OF LOVE"—CENTRAL THEATRE.

The latest Chinese film drama "Power of Love" is now showing at the Central Theatre. It was produced by the Star Co., with an all star cast, and has English titles.

MAIL REVIEW

"EAST LYNNE"—TAIPING THEATRE.

Ann Harding's magnificent acting plus a story that has a truly human appeal, feature "East Lynne", now showing at the Taiping Theatre. Clive Brook, as the other lover, and Conrad Nagel, as the old fashioned husband, both give polished performances. Recommended.

MAIL REVIEW

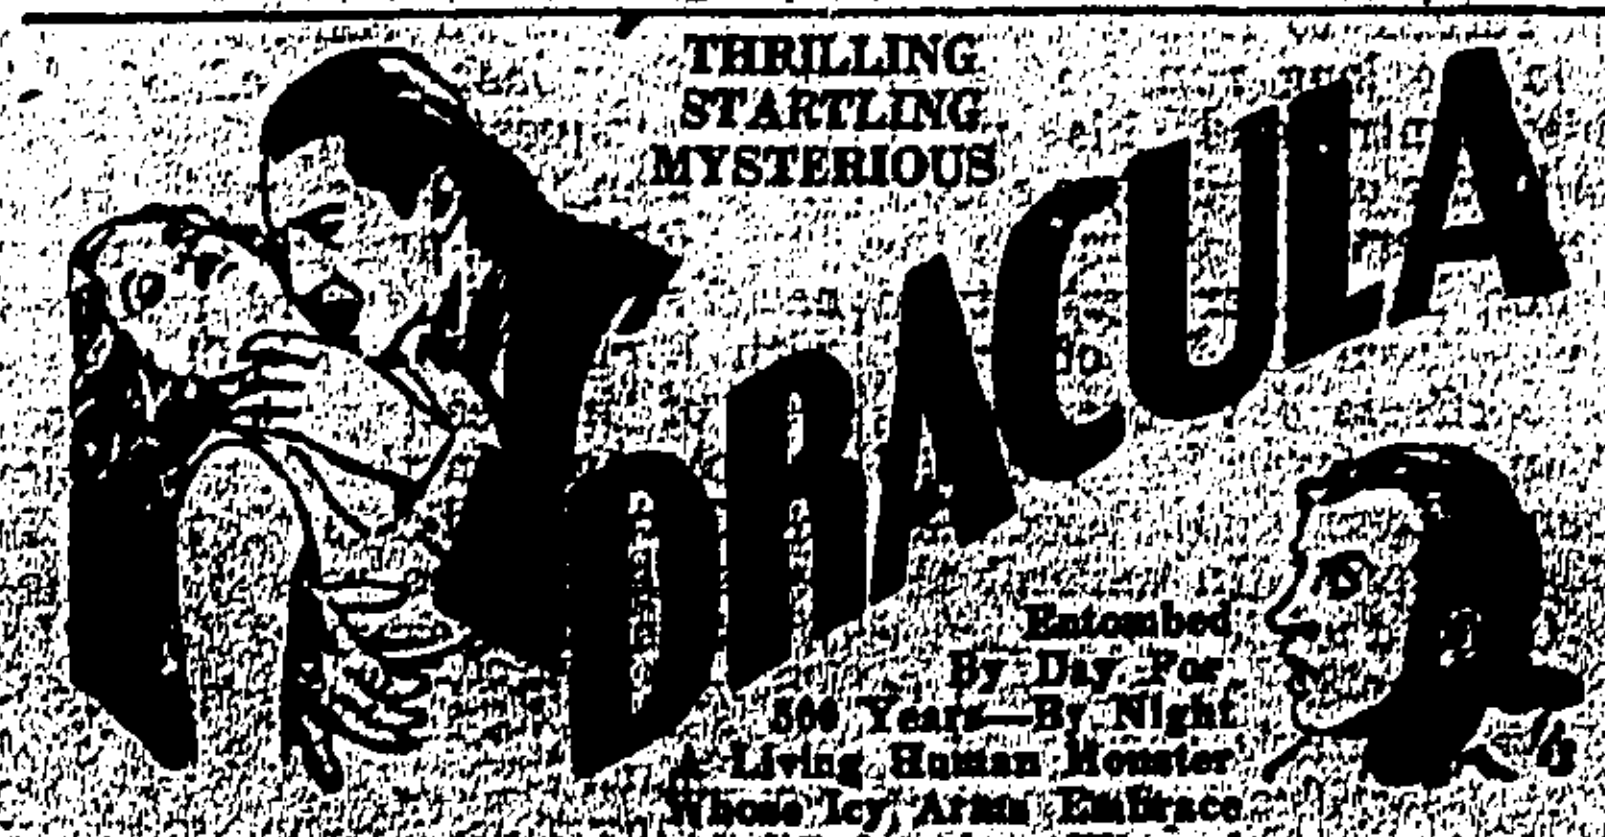

"DRACULA"—GARDEN THEATRE.

"Dracula" which contains a story about vampires that is distinctly in a class by itself, and which is the strangest and most weird motion picture, is the current attraction at the Garden Theatre.

Most of the eerie settings are in the 500 yards old crumbling castle of Count Dracula, splendidly enacted by Bela Lugosi, who created the same part in the stage hit. Helen Chandler and David Manners give the film a welcome relief of romance. Recommended!

Each item proposed must be specifically named with its figure, and yet there is probably no year in which the Public Works Department have been able to carry out the whole programme and to expend all the money allotted. The Department is an ever public target for jokes on this account but a very little reflection will show that the position is one which is due to the circumstances of the country. A list of works as proposed must be considered in any year and it is tallied to the Public Works Department.

SEVEN-A-SIDES IN MARCH.

The Royal Navy are expected to be at full strength on the Rugby field during the first weeks of November, and their first match against the Club has been scheduled for November 5 on the Club ground at Happy Valley.

Last year the Navy proved a most formidable combination, and though none of their representatives carried off the Seven-A-Side competition, the combined Navy fifteen carried all before them in the Triangular Tournament.

The following are the Club fixtures for the coming season:—

October 29 v. Army (h).
November 5 v. Navy (h).
" 12 v. Army (a).
" 19 v. Navy (h).
" 26 v. Navy (h).
December 3 v. Army (a).
" 10 v. Navy (h).
" 17 v. Navy (h).
" 24 v. Combined Services (a).
January 7 v. Army (h).
" 14 v. Navy (a).

DUFF AND WADE EXTENDED.

Shanghai Friday.

The two semi-final matches of the Shanghai Men's Open Doubles tennis championship were played off yesterday afternoon on the Association court at the Cercle Sportif Francais, when W. A. H. Duff, partnered by J. L. Wade, and Gordon Lum, partnered by Kho Hooi-hye, entered the final round.

The opening match provided a great struggle, upsetting all predictions and going to five sets before "Stick" Duff and John Wade finally emerged victorious over John Berents and A. G. Meise at 10-8, 4-6, 6-1, 2-6 and 6-2.

The other match between the two Chinese couples went only three sets, the experience of Lum and Kho standing them in good stead over the nervousness and flashy play of Guy Cheng and T. K. Yui. Kho and Lum ran out winners by 6-3, 4-1, and 6-4.

Also in Roper Cup.

W. A. H. Ruff and J. L. Wade are now in the finals of both the Shanghai Men's Open Doubles tennis championship, and the Roper Cup doubles tourney and their opponents in both these matches are Gordon Lum and Kho Hooi-hye. The dates for the finals of both these tournaments have not been announced as yet.

Both pairs are considered certainties for the Interport match against Hongkong at the Kowloon Cricket Club on October 8, 9 and 10.

CHAMPIONS AT PLAY.

In the Yorkshire match, which was finished early it was decided to put on some "freak" cricket to amuse the crowd but the Leicester professionals refused to take part. The Committee of the Leicester-shire County Cricket Club passed a resolution expressing strong disapproval of their professionals' refusal to take part in this burlesque cricket after the match with Yorkshire at Leicester, and a letter of protest has been sent to the Yorkshire Cricket Board. The players attempted to continue the game but were driven off the ground by the spectators.

AMERICAN POLO SUCCESS.Third Victory In Shanghai Season.

Shanghai, Friday.

Led by their captain, Judge Cornell S. Franklin, the Troopers rode to a victory, aided by their 2-2/8 goal handicap, 5-2/8 goals to 8 over the Blue Pigs in the final of the Army Cup annual tournament on the Shanghai Polo ground at the Race Course yesterday afternoon.

The Americans thus registered their third victory in annual polo competitions. The only annual competition that was won by British teams this season was the Dyke Cup, which was won by the British team.

AUSTRALIAN PAIR
TRIUMPH.British Defeats In The German Tourney.

J. Crawford and H. Hopman (Australia) won the German doubles championship at Hamburg, beating G. Hughes and H. N. Lee (Britain), 7-5, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Von Cramm (Germany) defeated Mendel (Czechoslovakia), 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3, in the singles.

Middle Payot (France) won the women's singles, beating Fraulein Krahwinkel (Germany), 6-2, 1-6, 6-4.

In the mixed doubles, Von Cramm and Fraulein Krahwinkel beat Lee and Miss Betty Nuthall, 9-7, 5-7, 6-3.

In the women's doubles, Fraulein Krahwinkel and Peitz beat Misses Heeley and Stammers, 6-3, 6-2.

The men's doubles was disappointing. The Englishmen never put their weight into the fight, and were not in unison. Crawford always produced an unexpected coup in the critical games, and frequently a surprise passing shot, which left the Englishmen guessing. Crawford and Hopman adopted an unorthodox formation. Hopman standing in the same court when Crawford served to Hughes. These unorthodox tactics secured many points. Hopman was in splendid form. He smashed wonderfully, and played his service and strokes with great power and accuracy.

OVERWHELMING VICTORY FOR HONG KONG LAWN BOWLS TEAM

HAMPTON-BRADBURY EXCEL

BROWN & OMAR THERE TO CONSOLIDATE POSITION

DEFINITE SUPERIORITY

HONG KONG 39 SHOTS UP ON SHANGHAI IN THE WHOLE SERIES.

HONG KONG WON THE THIRD AND LAST MATCH OF THE LAWN BOWLS INTERPORT SERIES ON THE SHANGHAI LAWN BOWLS CLUB GREEN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON WHEN THEY EASILY OVERCAME THE SHANGHAI RINK TO WIN BY THE LARGE MARGIN OF 14 SHOTS.

The game was won by B. W. Bradbury and H. Hampton, who were two and lead respectively and who left little for J. C. Brown and U. M. Omar to do except to lay guards. Hong Kong bowled with a style much superior to Shanghai and led throughout.

Hampton, who was playing in his first interport game in Shanghai, played magnificent bowls as the Colony's No. 1, proving far too good for V. H. Lanning, while Bradbury clearly outplayed C. Richards.

The following have been the results of the three games played against Shanghai:

1st game	Hong Kong	17	Shanghai	16
2nd game	Hong Kong	21	Shanghai	20
3rd game	Hong Kong	27	Shanghai	13
		65		49

The following were the scores:
 Hong Kong: H. Hampton, V. H. Lanning, B. W. Bradbury, C. Richards, J. C. Brown, J. W. Brierley, U. M. Omar, T. G. Main (Skip), 27.
 Shanghai: (Skip), 13.

ARMY LAWN TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Second Round Results At Sookunpoo.

The following were the results of the Second Round matches in the Army Tennis Championships which were decided at Sookunpoo yesterday afternoon:

Mitchell (R.A.O.C.) beat Knight (R.A.M.C.) 6-4, 6-0; Davies (S.W.B.) beat Norris (R.A.O.C.) 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Landau and Parkinson (R.A.M.C.) 6-4, 7-5; Roman (S.W.B.) beat Fretwell (R.E.) 6-2, 6-4.
Doubles.
Lewis and Roman (S.W.B.) beat Landau and Parkinson (R.A.M.C.) 6-2, 6-4; Davies and Norris (R.E.) beat Dean and Norworthy (S.W.B.) 6-10, 6-3, 7-5; McCall and Davies (R.A.M.C.) beat Tush and Carmichael (R.A.M.C.) 6-2, 8-6; Laws and Jarman (S.W.B.) beat Fyfe and Harris (R.A.S.H.) 6-2, 6-4.

GIANT TUNNY CAUGHT.

Mitchell Henry, the well-known sporting fisherman, who is making Whitty his headquarters this year, on August 19 landed a huge tunny fish, weighing 700lb and measuring nine feet.

The fish was caught after a thrilling five hours chase, four hours being in darkness, in a rough sea, which became very stormy.

SEMI-ATTEMPT.

Another attempt to beat the Malcolm Campbell speed record will be made at Victoria next February by Capt. George Miller, heir to the baronetcy of Miller of Glenelg.

KOWLOON RUGBY SEASON OPENS.

Two Seven-A-Side Matches.

ARGYLLS BEATEN.

The first official practice games of the Kowloon Rugby Club attracted a large number of players yesterday evening when two seven-a-side games were played.

The Argyls team was unable to participate, but six officers of the regiment turned up and with the aid of one of the Kowloon men, turned out as a "seven." They played against a Kowloon seven in the first match, the latter team winning by three points to nil, J. J. Ferguson scoring a try which J. E. Wilson failed to convert. The game was fast throughout, but very few movements were accompanied with success, the play being of a scrappy order.

For the second match most of the Kowloon players were fresh men, while other Kowloon players together with three men of the Argyls formed the opposition. This game was also won by the all-Kowloon seven, by six points to nil, tries being scored by M. La Roche and J. E. Wilson.

Another seven-a-side game has been fixed against the Argyls for Saturday afternoon.

WON ONLY ONE THIRD.

Until the finals of the Olympic 200-meter dash at Los Angeles, Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette University had never won third in a race. He had won plenty of firsts and seconds and a rare fourth or fifth.

Andrews Urges L.T.A. to Seek Own Ground

Mr. E. D. Andrews, the prominent Wimbledon tennis star now in the Colony, in a short speech at the dinner given in his honour at the Hong Kong Hotel last night by the Executive Committee of the H.K.L.T.A., urged the local body to seek a ground of their own, as, in his opinion no organisation could hope to flourish without the required facilities.

Mr. Andrews said that he had greatly enjoyed his stay in the Colony, and had not expected to play in exhibitions here as he had intended to enjoy a holiday from tennis until his arrival back in New Zealand. Mr. Andrews has thus paid Hong Kong a great compliment and it is certain that local sporting circles have appreciated it. To Mr. C. P. F. James, the Hon. Secretary, he paid high tribute for the enjoyable manner in which he had arranged his engagements.

Speaking of the inauguration of a Pacific Zone in the Davis Cup, Mr. Andrews said that he thought this would come about within the next two years and would act as a tremendous impetus to tennis all over the world.

Mr. M. K. Lo, the Vice-President of the H.K.L.T.A., in the absence of Mr. R. E. Lindell, the President, thanked Mr. Andrews for his visit and warmly congratulated him on his displays in the exhibition.

OLYMPIC GAMES FINANCE.

Los Angeles, Aug. 18. The finances of the Olympic Games, are not quite so spectacular as the success of the athletes who competed will serve as a satisfactory runner-up.

The organising committee of the 10th Olympiad announced to-day the games were so successful financially that all expenses can be paid $1,000,000 in bonds raised by the State and the city.

The exact amount collected for the turnstiles had not been computed but enough money has been made to make any surplus. Neither have the bookstalls and other money-making operations been so successful as anticipated.

Andrews Beats Rumjahn In The Singles

Colony Champion Loses By 6-1, 6-1 In Splendid Game

RUMJAHN COUSINS TRIUMPH

Brilliant tennis by H. D. and S. A. Rumjahn, the Colony's doubles champions since 1925, was responsible for the defeat of E. D. Andrews, the New Zealand and British International player, and A. L. Sullivan, Club champion in 1931, in straight sets by scores of 6-3, 6-3. The local pair were definitely the better combination, their volleying and perfect understanding carrying all before them.

In the singles match Andrews defeated Sirdar Rumjahn, the Colony champion, by scores of 6-1, 6-1, but he was forced to fight desperately hard for every point. Rumjahn rose to great heights in this match and only his impetuosity allowed the match but two sets. Andrews was undoubtedly the better player, but he failed to show his best form, and with Rumjahn retrieving brilliantly he tired quickly.

SAINTS LADIES' BIG VICTORY.

Recreio Lose By Four Clear Goals.

In a friendly hockey match on the Marina ground yesterday afternoon, the St. Andrew's Club Ladies defeated the Club de Recreio Ladies by four goals to one. M. Woolley (2) and P. Gittins (2) scored for the Saints, while C. Botelho registered the Recreio's solitary point.

The New Zealander was not seen at his best in either volleying or smashing, the latter feature of his game appearing to be the weak link in an otherwise very strong chain. Time and again he hit the net with smashes from centre court, and in his volleying he was too prone to seek brilliant placements to prove really effective. His service was also below standard. He served no fewer than seven double faults with his American spin service, the last point of the doubles match being attributed to this fault.

Rumjahn was not so accurate as usual, and did not greatly appreciate having to play Andrews' game on the base line. Several times he sought the net only to be easily passed down the sidelines or driven back with a deep lob. He, however, gave a splendid display, recovering brilliantly at times and retrieving balls that would have left any other Colony player standing.

5 GAMES IN 6 SETS.

Sullivan did not come up to expectations, his volleying being the weakest part of his game. He was entirely beaten by the rapid exchanges at the net, the speed of the Rumjahns causing him to make repeated errors. Andrews was the guest of the Executive Committee of the Hong Kong Lawn Tennis Association at a dinner given in the Hong Kong Hotel last night. Mr. M. K. Lo, Vice-President of the H.K.L.T.A., presiding.

During his brief stay in Hong Kong Andrews has shown brilliant form in his singles exhibitions, the matches resulting as follows:

best Lai (Canton) 6-2
best Lau (Canton) 6-0
best E. C. Fincher (Hong Kong) 6-1, 6-0
best S. A. Rumjahn (Hong Kong) 6-1, 6-1

Andrews will leave for Singapore to-morrow, by the Rangoon, carrying with him the best wishes of the tennis community in Hong Kong.

His pleasant personality has given him many friends in the Colony.

RADIO HOCKEY TEAM.

The following will represent the Radio Sports Club against H.M.S. "Phoenix" in a friendly hockey match at 5.30 p.m. on Friday on the Marina ground.

CHINA DELEGATE VISITS HERE ON ROAD TO GENEVA

Keeps Silent On Big Issue In North.

DECISION WITH LEAGUE.

Mr. Wansz King, a member of the Chinese Delegation to the League of Nations, arrived in Hong Kong this morning en route to Geneva, where he will participate in the forthcoming discussion on the Lytton Report.

Seen on board the s.s. Ranchi morning, Mr. King said that the political situation in the North was quiet, and conditions seemed more or less stable both in Shanghai and North China, excepting that a minor dispute had just arisen between the Chairman of the Shantung Province and the Officer Commanding the troops in the Eastern portion of the Province. That, however, was merely a local disturbance and was not likely to have any effect on the present situation, or precipitate a general conflict.

Mr. King declined to express any opinion on the attitude taken by Japan regarding Manchukuo. "Since the matter has been taken up by the League of Nations nothing can be considered definite until the report of the Lytton Commission is announced," he said.

Mr. King, who is travelling to Marseilles by the Ranchi, will proceed to Paris, where he will stay two days before proceeding to Geneva. He was formerly Commissioner of Foreign Affairs at Shanghai.

HONG KONG POLICE VETERAN.

Det.-Insp. C. P. Fallon
Wins Medal.

SERVED FOR 20 YEARS.

Detective-Inspector Christopher Patrick Fallon, who received the First Class Police Medal at yesterday's annual Inspection Parade, has been connected with the Hong Kong Police Force for nearly 20 years.

Joining as a constable in November, 1912, he rose to the rank of Lance-Sergeant seven years later. Six years later, in July, 1923, he was promoted to Sub-Inspector, and reached the rank of Inspector in March 1928. He has been connected with the Criminal Investigation Department for a considerable number of years, and he is now in charge of waterfront searches.

In his early days as a constable, Inspector Fallon was stationed at the old Yau-mat Police Station, which building is now the Kowloon Magistracy. During his period of service with the C.D.I. he was Detective-Inspector in charge of the Yau-mat district. He has been connected with many murder cases, prominent among these being the murder of six Japanese people at Tsang Fook-Villas, Kowloon City on September 26 last year, when the anti-Japanese rioting was at its height.

signatories will enforce an economic blockade of Japan as a last resort.

"Third, if Mr. Theodore Roosevelt is elected President of the United States, it is probable that the Democratic Government will join the League of Nations, and thus that organisation will be strengthened and its demands carry more weight."

Significant Statements.
Mr. Sun, son of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, himself a former President of the Executive Yuan and Minister of Railways, is unquestionably going north on an important political mission, but he steadfastly refuses to discuss his purposes.

It is significant that he is accompanied by Mr. Chang Wal-cheung, former Commander-in-Chief of the Canton Air Force. The subordinates of this officer, about 100 of whom held a farewell dinner in his honour yesterday, were warned by him to hold themselves in readiness to fight for their country. All of them are aviators, and among the best in China's flying force.

"China," said their leader at the dinner, "is in sore distress. The people should unite and co-operate in every way. We cannot count too much upon a third party saving our country. Though you yourselves are unemployed (the officers recently left the Canton Air Force in a body) you should all be prepared to sacrifice your lives for the salvation of our country when there is call for four services."

Recently it was rumoured that these fighting pilots might be taken into a new flying unit under the command of the Nanking Military Council, and act as the nucleus of an air defense force.

CHICAGO CUBS FETED BY 120,000.

Babe Ruth Fit For World Series.

FOXX NOW 56.

New York, To-day.
A crowd of 120,000 lined the streets in the Chicago Parade, to the City Hall where homage was paid to the Cubs, the conquering heroes of the National Baseball League.

The Cubs have ignored Manager Hornsby in the balloting division of the World Series money in the series of seven games between the Chicago Cubs and the New York Yankees which commence in New York on Wednesday.

Babe Ruth has recovered from his slight attack of appendicitis and has resumed play for the Yankees.

Jimmy Foxx banged out two homers for the Athletics against the Yankees yesterday, thus bringing his total for the season up to 56—only 4 short of Babe Ruth's 1927 world record for a season's play.

The following were the results of yesterday's Baseball games:—
National League.

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago Cubs	0	6	0
Pittsburgh Pirates	7	12	2
Hal hit a homer and Smith pitched.
New York Giants	2	8	0
Brooklyn Dodgers	7	12	0
Wright hit a homer.
St. Louis Cardinals	8	11	0
C. Wilson and Pucinielli hit homers.
Cincinnati Reds	5	13	2
American League.
Boston Red Sox	2	4	2
Johnson hit a homer.
Washington Senators	4	9	1
Philadelphia Athletics	7	15	0
Jimmy Foxx (2) and McNair hit homers.
New York Yankees	8	12	0
Lou Gehrig and Hoag hit homers. Game went to 10 innings.

NAVAL REDUCTION PROPOSALS.

Great Powers Consult On Vital Matter.

London, To-day.
At a meeting of the Bureau of the Disarmament Conference at Geneva last evening, Sir John Simon, Chairman, said comprehensive proposal had been made on the subject of Naval Disarmament and had been carefully examined by the British Government, which had established contact with other great powers on the matter. He had reason to hope that it might be possible in the near future to initiate an exchange of views.—

Always have GARDAN in the house!

In the tropics pain and illness are particularly liable to appear suddenly. In headache, toothache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, muscular pains, and above all in fever and its accompanying symptoms, GARDAN is of definite value.
